I think being sociable because I'm home educated and I get to see people. I have meet up with people that I haven't seen for years from my old school and I get to make new friends as well. Being home educated I don't get to mix with people my own age and its been great hanging out again and having somewhere to chat and relax.

1 Male 15 yrs

Young Man has grown up in the area, very friendly and outgoing likes to get involved with all activities, sessions. He's very active with the steering group and always comes along to help at events etc. He is brilliant with staff very helpful and polite. Have spoken to mum and several occasions regarding trips etc. and every time we call she is always asking if he's behaving has he caused any problems. This is down to troubles he has had in the past. He doesn't go to the local school as he has issues there, and found it hard to engage, therefore he only sees his friends in Liskeard at youth group. He occasional goes over to see friends from school but that involves a lot of public transport.

2 Female 15yrs

This young women attends youth club regularly, and is always polite and helpful to staff. She gets involved with all the activities and is a valued member of the steering group. Being home educated she was very quiet to start with but as time has gone on she has got more and more confident in the group. She has lead several pieces of work to do with the steering group and has produced an amazing banner which was used for the Liskeard Lights Up parade. She has settled into a good friendship group and they are always coming in together.
