

Beating The Bounds

The annual Liskeard ceremony of Beating the Bounds took place on Sunday 20th May, starting with the traditional bumping on the Mayor at the boundary stone located at the Morrisons roundabout. The group then set off along the boundary with Menheniot parish, pausing at another boundary stone for the Mayor to shake hands with Clerk of Menheniot Parish Council, John Hesketh across the boundary. The group paused again to sit on top of the old Tremabe Bridge located on the boundary with St Cleer parish, before continuing on to Treworgey Manor for lunch in their beautiful gardens, by kind permission of Mr & Mrs Walker. The group were also able to view the rare medieval mass dials they have there before continuing on to Highwood and the boundary with Dobwalls. Thanks go to local walk guide Brian Oldham from Walkers are Welcome, who provided information on many points of interest along the way.

Tremabe Bridge

The mass dials at Treworrey Manor

