

Nadelik Lyskerrys

On Sunday evening a large group of local business people, organisations and interested locals attended the Discovery event at the Liskerrett Community Centre to find out how to get involved in Nadelik Lyskerrys (Liskeard's Cornish Christmas).

There will be more information available shortly to local business about how they can get involved, and also details of Cornish workshops for anyone.

Before long we will all be saying Dydh da (hello) and Duw genes (goodbye) in Cornish, along with Nadelik Lowen (Merry Christmas) and ha Bledhen Nowydh da (and a happy New Year).

Maureen Smith was the lucky winner of a pair of rail tickets which will let her travel anywhere on the Great Western Railway.
